LEDGER

FOURTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1895.

ONE CENT.

A MAYSVILLE ROMANCE.

Pretty Miss Kitty
Sped out of the city
And over the boulevard she drew;
Her wheel it was steel, and so never could feel
Him trim little figure in blue.

She rode all the day
To see the flowers in the bay
Lay down her green heath in the sun.
Then at eve took her leave with a heart
touched with grief,
For 'twas time to the city to run.

At "Mickey" boulevard
A car cried "Hold up!"
Such a girl's a most elegant prize.

"Where's your light, for its night?" then he said: "You're all right."
When he glanced at her snapping black eyes.

He reined in his horse,
Quoth gallant boy of course,

"Such all queens do an escort be needing!"

Now husband and wife down the boulevard called Life.
That cap and sweet Kitty are speeding.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect for the Next Twenty-four Hours.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White Clouds—Fair.
Blue—Rain or Showers.
With Black Above—'Twill Warmer
Grow.

If Black Beneath—Clouds 'll
be.

Unless Black's showno—no change
we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

We met 'em and they are ours.
Our old enemy, the Boyd county wonders, sustained a Waterloo at the hands of the Local slingers in the first game of the series at East End Park yesterday morning.

Only seven innings were played, owing to the delay in calling the game, but it was long enough to convince the 250 people present that the visitors were not one, two, three against our boys.

The game was listless throughout and the monotony was only broken when Currie wrapped his bat around the ball and put it into left field for a home run, and a short while later when Wadsworth drove one into center for four corners.

Lever pitched in splendid style.

Kouns also did well.

The visitors owe their disgraceful defeat to their inability to hit Lever.

THE COLIMA.

She Sank in Ten Minutes and 160 Persons Drowned.

A Strong Wind and a Heavy Swell Were Too Much

For the Vesuvius—Fifty-Four Bodies Brought into Manzanilla by Scouring Farfus—Few Are There to Bury the Dead and to Care for the Living.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 31.—Only a meager telegram has been received from the Colima region. At 10 o'clock Thursday night a message was received from the Pacific Mail agency at Manzanilla, saying that the number of dead is 160 and that the survivors are 10.

The telegram says that it is as yet impossible for the agency to get a list of the dead or other reliable details.

The telegram does not say what proportion of the victims were women nor does it even hint as to the nationality and residence of those saved. From some unexplainable reason no names accompany the report.

The conductor of the Mexican National Railroad from Mazatlan to Manzanilla says there are fifteen Americans among the rescued, but on account of their being more dead than alive he was unable to get any names. A special agent arriving a rescue party, including four physicians, was sent out from Colima to Manzanilla under telegraphic orders from General Manager Herbert, of the Mexican National Construction Co.'s railroad, running between the two places.

The survivors are all at Manzanilla. Most of the people there are panic stricken, and the few skilled workers are almost exhausted in caring for those saved. It is said that fifty-four bodies have been brought to Manzanilla by several search parties patrolling the coast shore and in boats.

As the weather is hot and no means for embalming at hand, these will be buried Friday, and it will be almost impossible to dig separate graves the bodies unclaimed by survivors will of necessity be interred in long trenches.

The Jeff Poltoco, of Manzanilla, has a small company of men, the general force in the district. Manzanilla is a garrison of soldiers has been placed on guard to prevent robbery of the dead and to dig graves and trenches.

It is known that some vandalism has been committed, as several bodies have been found a short distance from the shore stripped of all valuables and clothing. Severe punishment will be inflicted upon any offenders who may be discovered at this work.

The dead, however, as well as the means of escape of Vigo & Co., the agents of the company at Manzanilla of the Pacific Mail, will permit. Portions of the ship have reached shore, and it is apparent she will be a total loss.

WHILE ASLEEP

Thirty-Three Canadian Lumbermen Were Swept to Death.

ONCE MORE the terrible fate reached the city of the terrible accident which occurred on the Spanish river, by which thirty-three men lost their lives. The victims were lumbermen. They had encamped for the night on a crib of squared logs, which showed the head of the rapids, which at this point are very precipitous and rocky. All had gone to sleep without leaving a watchman to guard the crib. Some, during the night the crib had been from 10 to 12 feet raised its cargo of sleeping men, all unmindful of their fate, into the surging waters below. The crib was broken to pieces on the rocks and not a man escaped to tell the tale.

The Spanish river flows into the north channel of Lake Huron at a point north of Manitoulin Island. Near its mouth is a small hamlet of perhaps one hundred inhabitants, situated on the Soo branch of the Canadian Pacific rail road. The timber roundabout is a lumbering district.

AGAINST IT.

Delegates to the Interstate Conference of Miners Decide Against General Suspension.

COLUMBUS, O., May 31.—There will now be a general strike of the miners. This conclusion was reached at the interstate convention of miners just before it adjourned Wednesday evening until Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. The action was taken by the adoption of the following resolution:

"Whereas, We know that the present rate is established in the Pittsburgh district; and

"Whereas, The black coal miners of Indiana are under contract lasting until July, and the bituminous coal miners of the same state are under temporary contract lasting until the 15th of next July, and the northern Illinois miners are also under contract under which it would be difficult to get them to accept the Pennsylvania miners to come out again, the committee does not find it advisable at this time to order a general suspension."

Caricatura. An illustrated paper of a sensational character, published in Havana, contrary to its usual custom, prints no picture of Marti dead, but a picture of him in life.

The Cubans claim that Marti is keeping quiet and will remain so until Puerto Rico principles are restored.

They think that it is part of his scheme to let it be thought by the Spaniards that he is dead.

Mrs. Marti has asked of the Spanish authorities one of the strongest proofs of the death of her husband, which could have been readily produced if another Spaniard presented the body of Marti and the possession of the body by the Spaniards, the receipt by Gen. Campos of his watch and a letter from Mrs. Mantilla, of New Jersey, in his body, they dispose of their own satisfaction.

Disease is cured not by magical incantations, but by medical science. Hence it is that Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures, and that it proves so eminently successful. It is a skilfully-prepared and strictly scientific blood-purifier and tonic, the only one so admirably adapted at the World's Fair.

Jackson McClary and Miss Aldora Fry of Lewis county walked and waded to West Union one day last week to get married because the license doesn't cost as much over there as it does at Vanceburg.

A letter received by Mr. William Brown states that his wife is growing worse and worse each day, that there is no possible chance for her recovery. She is the lady who was burned so badly in this city several weeks ago.

Words Failed. Chicago Tribune.

The silver orator had spoken with great fervor and perspiration. He had exhausted the subject and himself. He had laid bare the hideous conspiracy by which John Sherman and the grasping money kings twenty two years ago impoverished the tolling masses and plunged the country into financial chaos.

"And now, fellow-citizens," he said, "I am done. I have shown you where we stand and what has brought us here. I have plain told what we stand for. Let me tell you the relative villainy that culminated in that crowning stroke, the demoralization of silver, and I have tried to set before you a way of escape from the evil that environs us. In conclusion I shall be glad to answer any questions you may feel moved to ask touching the momentous issues now before the people."

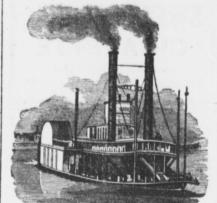

As he sat down a timid, earnest-looking citizen rose up and said:

"You have made several references to the crime of 1873. May I ask what the crime of 1873 was?"

The silver orator's jaw fell and rose again, and his lips moved, but no sound came from them.

Unless there is a rise in the next two or three days the Keystone State will probably be the last packet that will reach Pittsburgh.

The steamer Lizzie Bay struck a rock about four miles above Wheeling and burst for a canvas cover and several siphons she would have gone down.

The watchman has been taken off the wreck of the steamer City of Charters, just above Ironton, and nothing now marks the spot save a lantern at night.

Pushboats are again coming into play on the Big Sandy and much of the freight of the coming week will be handled in this style. A June rise is anticipated as usual this season.

The river near Gallipolis is infested with a gang of pirates, who have been stealing anything they can get their hands on. They came near killing two police officers, who were searching for the pirates, the other night.
